The Wisconsin Veterinary Technician Association presents the 2nd Annual

Leadership Development Workshop

Improve your CONFIDENCE, SELF-AWARENESS, COMMUNICATION and TEAMWORK skills

Date: Saturday November 11, 2017
Time: 9:00am-5:00pm 7.4 CE credits (non-scientific)
Place: Landmark Resort, Egg Harbor, WI
Discounted group rates available for hotel rooms: Call 1-800-273-7877 and ask for WVTA group rate.

9am-11:45 / 2-5pm: Personal Development Skills Workshop (Jill Baake, Thrive! Confidence Coach and Lori Kuhn, Thrive! Executive Coach)

* This event will equip you with valuable insights and tools that will improve your life experience at work and in life by increasing the skills of confidence, self-awareness and communication. You can expect a really good conversation and lots of personal a-has that you can start implementing immediately.

* This is not a boxed up prescriptive lecture series. THRIVE! facilitators are conversation starters. They are question askers. They are personal responsibility experts. Each THRIVE! session is designed to elicit powerful new individual awareness that directly translates to a better experience at work and in life. They include practicable applications that work in live time.

12-1:30pm Keynote: The Psychology of Teamwork (Kristen Cooley, BA, CVT, VTS (Anesthesia & Analgesia)

* Working with others doesn't necessarily mean that you are working as a team. Teamwork takes work and implies communication and collaboration towards a common goal. Each person has something to contribute. Many talents go unrecognized because individuals are afraid of being judged. Learn to shine by supporting others and becoming part of a team.
